

The Cosmetic Boot Camp, LLC Announces Acquisition of Cosmetic Boot Camp for Office Staff

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 2 /PRNewswire/ -- The Cosmetic Boot Camp, LLC has acquired the privately held Cosmetic Boot Camp for Office staff. Terms of the acquisition were not released. "The two meetings have similar target corporate sponsors and closely related audiences so an acquisition seemed strategic," says Kenneth Beer, MD. Also of note, The Cosmetic Boot Camp, LLC will sponsor its first venture capital summit which will be held on June 7th in Aspen, Colorado. Venture Capital Summit Program Chair Vic Narurkar, M.D. states that although the meeting is in its inaugural year, "response has been quite substantial."

Registration Chair, Joel Cohen, M.D. says that "the registration is ahead of our previous year's numbers." This, he believes, is due to the outstanding faculty, the topical curriculum and the focused, collegial reputation that the meeting has developed. "Our meeting is the antidote to the 'factory meetings' that are proliferating to train gynecologists, pathologists and other non- specialists," says Dr. Beer.

Sponsorship Director Mary Lupo, M.D. has worked with every major company that is, or is about to be in the cosmetic market and is dedicated to upholding high levels of patient care through focused education. "Companies that were not interested in attending an unknown meeting three years ago are now competing to get in," says Dr. Lupo. Dr Lupo has long been a leading advisor and counsel to the cosmetic dermatology and cosmeceutical industries. She is also a leader of the Women's Dermatology Foundation that is one of the world leaders in dermatology.

The Cosmetic Boot Camp is the leading specialty training symposium. In addition to its annual summer meeting in Aspen, a Winter meeting for office staff in Las Vegas will be held at The Four Seasons in Las Vegas December 13- 16 of 2007. Regional training seminars are also scheduled for this year with the next one in Miami in February. University based programs for residents and fellows are currently in the planning phases. The Cosmetic Boot Camp, LLC works closely with both physicians and industry to insure that the highest educational standards are adhered to.
